DIVERSITY

It is possible for two people who have wide differences of preference and opinion, of habits, of teaching or training, of background and belief to enjoy the company of each other in many ways. Indeed, a diversity of friendships is one of life's real enrichments. To learn of the goodness of those who are unlike — their worth, their sincerity, their good hearts, their good minds, their good company — is real and rewarding. It is wonderful to have a wide range of choice friends who can be counted on, friends who can be enjoyed and loved and trusted. Such is the meaning of friendship.

Richard L. Evans

We, therefore, through friendships link together the chain of diversity.

The instructive link of the chain

No love — no friendship can cross the path of our destiny without leaving some mark.

Partners of experience

The inspired link of the chain

We do not make friends as we make houses, but discover them as we do the arbutus, under the leaves of our lives, concealed in our experience.
